

To enhance readability of the translations and usability of the catalogues, I have inserted the following bold headings into the lists. These have no authority in any manuscript, but are based on a theory about the composition of the lists described in chapter 3. The text and numbering follows that of O. Gigon, Librorum deperditorum fragmenta.

PART ONE: Titles in Diogenes Laertius (D)

I. Universal works (ta katalou)

A. The treatises (ta syntagmatika)

1. The dialogues or exoterica (ta dialogika  exōterika)

2. The works in propria persona or lectures (ta autoprosōpa  akroamatika)

a. Instrumental works (ta organika)

b. Practical works (ta praktika)

c. Productive Works (ta poiētika)

d. Theoretical works (ta theōrētika)

Natural philosophy (ta physiologia)

Mathematics (ta mathēmatika)

B. Notebooks (ta hypomnēmata)

II. Intermediate works (ta metaxu)

III. Particular works (ta merika)

PART TWO: Titles in the Vita Hesychii (H)

This list is organized in the same way as D, with two exceptions. First, IA2c "productive works" has dropped out. Second, there is an appendix, organized as follows:

IV. Appendix

A. Intermediate or Particular works

B. Treatises

C. Notebooks

D. Falsely ascribed works

PART THREE: Titles in Ptolemy al-Garib (A)

This list is organized in the same way as D, except it contains none of the Intermediate or Particular works. It was written in Arabic, and later translated into Latin, and then reconstructed into Greek, which I here translate.

PART FOUR: Titles in the order of Bekker (B)

The modern edition contains works only in IA2 ("the works in propria persona"), and replaces the theoretical works before the practical and productive, as follows.

a. Instrumental Works

b. Theoretical Works

c. Practical Works

d. Productive Works
